

Daily Mains Answer Writing Practice

1. India's transport sector, which caters to over a billion people, is constantly expanding becoming the third most greenhouse gas (GHG) emitting sector. In the light of this, how can India redefine its mobility policies to decarbonise transport?
2. "In a world where technology enables us to automate ever more jobs, the far bigger problem is too many potential workers, not too few". Comment.

Submit your answers (www.beaconias.com/test-series/) & get personal assessment.

Beacon IAS